

LAW FIRMS REPRESENT WIDOW OF TYLER PERRY STUDIOS CEO AFTER FATAL CRASH

Routine Flight to Fatal Disaster: Holding Manufacturers Accountable for Preventable Failures.

Atlanta (December 19, 2025) – Beasley Allen Law Firm and Trammell Injury Law have announced their representation of the widow of Steve Mensch, the late President and CEO of Tyler Perry Studios in Atlanta, following his tragic death in a plane crash on December 6, 2024, in Homosassa, Florida.

Attorneys Mike Andrews of Beasley Allen and Dalton Trammell of Trammell Injury Law will lead the legal efforts on behalf of the Mensch family.

According to the preliminary report from the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB), Steve Mensch was piloting a Vans Aircraft Inc RV-12iS, registration N702DP, when the accident occurred. The flight originated from Falcon Field Airport in Atlanta, Georgia, with a stop at George T. Lewis Airport in Cedar Key, Florida, before departing for the return journey to Atlanta. The aircraft ultimately crashed near Homosassa, Florida, after impacting power lines west of U.S. Highway 98. The wreckage was found inverted beneath the power lines, with no post-impact fire and no fuel leakage observed at the site. Weather conditions at the time were clear, with light winds and good visibility.

The NTSB investigation remains ongoing, and the findings will be part of the information included in determining the cause of the accident and any potential liability. Steve Mensch was a respected leader in the entertainment industry, serving as President of Tyler Perry Studios and CEO of Tyler Perry Companies.

“We are honored to represent the Mensch family during this difficult time and are committed to seeking justice for Steve’s widow,” said Mike Andrews. Dalton Trammell added, “Our firms will work tirelessly to uncover the facts and ensure accountability.”
